

View all stories by date

PITTSBURGH TRIBUNE-REVIEW

TTT Larger text TTT Smaller text

Back to headlines

GEL can smooth out your putts

By The Tribune-Review
Sunday, July 8, 2007

Golfers will complain occasionally about putts that skid, skip or bounce as they come off the head of the putter.

Can that problem ever be completely eliminated?

At least one company thinks so: GEL Golf (Groove Equipment Limited). It has unveiled a line of six putters which the company says has gotten the ball rolling forward faster and reducing skid.

The putters feature a unique teeth-like horizontal groove pattern on their faces. In tests featuring leaders in putters including Titleist, Ping, and TaylorMade, GEL putters finished first in imparting forward roll on a ball, outperforming the competition by an average of 20 percent.

For more information about GEL putters and groove technology, check out the website: www.gelgolf.com.

SPECIAL REPORTS

- Terror on the Tracks
- Pittsburgh Slots
- Cold Cases

All Special Reports

MULTIMEDIA

All Multimedia

News

Sports

U.S. Open

Steelers

Penguins

Pirates

College

High School

Sports Toons

Columnists

Top Sports

[Major League
Baseball](#)

Top Stories

Local Sports

- [Bay, Bucs bounce
Cubs](#)
- [Bucs hopeful for 2nd
half](#)
- Bucs contemplate big 2nd half
- [Latest Wimbledon
news](#)